LABORATORY ACTIVITIES

Laboratory investigations that include scientific inquiry, research, measurement, problem solving, emerging technologies, tools, and equipment, as well as, experimental, quality, and safety procedures are an integral part of this career and technical program/course. Laboratory investigations benefit all students by developing an understanding of the complexity and ambiguity of empirical work, as well as the skills required to manage, operate, calibrate and troubleshoot equipment/tools used to make observations. Students understand measurement error; and have the skills to aggregate, interpret, and present the resulting data. Equipment and supplies should be provided to enhance hands-on experiences for students.

Field Internship (or externship) Activities: Clinical experiences are integrated with the didactic portion of this program. Clinical experience assisting a dentist must be an integral part of the educational program designed to perfect students' competence in performing dental assisting functions, rather than to provide basic instruction. The major portion of the students' time in clinical assignments must be spent assisting with or participating in patient care. Prior to clinical assignments, students demonstrate minimum competence in performing the procedures which they will be expected to perform in their clinical experience.

Field Internship Activities (or externship) are subject to additional rules, policies, and procedures. Students MUST transport themselves to/from sites, and hours may vary from classroom program hours.

It is encouraged and expected that all students enrolled in the program attend regularly, to derive maximum benefit from the instructional program and develop habits of punctuality, self-discipline and responsibility. Our faculty and staff are committed to prepare our students with the diverse skill set necessary to be successful in the workforce. Effective work habits are paramount to students' success and all our programs include an employability criteria checklist within their grading policy.

FCTC students are expected to attend all class sessions. Class begins at 8:00 AM and ends at 3:00 PM. Lunch is 30 minutes. Students MUST sign in and out for each scheduled class to receive credit for any hours present. STUDENTS MAY NOT SIGN ANOTHER STUDENT IN OR OUT. This is considered fraud and the student may face disciplinary action including, but not limited to, dismissal from the program. A student is expected to be on time for the start of the class. If a student is late for class and/or from lunch, the clock hours will be calculated upon the sign in and clock in time and the tardy will count against their Employability Skills grade.

Step 1) If a student misses 6% of the program instructional hours, the instructor will meet with the student to review the student handbook attendance policy. The instructor will be proactive and provide problem-solving options for the student to be on time and improve their attendance. The instructor will notate in the student information system referral tab the summary of the meeting and plan.

Step 2) If a student misses 12% of the program instructional hours, the teacher will meet with the student to review the attendance policy and support the learner. The teacher will develop a pro-social action plan for the student and determine if the student should also meet with the career specialist. The Teacher will notate in the student information system, in the referral tab, summary of the meeting and plan of action. If the teacher or career specialist decide that the student may need additional outreach support from the student advisor, the teacher will direct the student to the student advisor. The student advisor will meet with the student and provide necessary outreach information to support student attendance success. If the student advisor provides additional attendance and or outreach support to the student, the student advisor will also notate that within the students the student information system referral tab.

Step 3) If a student misses 18% of the program instructional hours, or a student has six (6) consecutive absences, the instructor will notify the career specialist. The career specialist will meet with the student to provide and offer options to improve their attendance. The career specialist will determine if the student will be reviewed by the attendance review committee to discuss dropping the student from the program. If a student is involuntarily withdrawn due to attendance, the re-enrollment policy must be followed.

Students must complete 80% of the program hours.

When it is necessary to be absent due to illness or emergency situations, students MUST notify the instructor on or before the date of the absence.

Course material and assessments missed due to absences are the responsibility of the student. Make-up work is due, and assessments must be taken the next class day, unless the instructor has agreed to an alternate schedule.

Students with absences could be subject to penalties such as lower grades and withdrawal from the program. If students do not complete 80% of their program, students are responsible for and need to pay for additional hours.

DUAL ENROLLMENT STUDENT ATTENDANCE POLICY

First Coast Technical College (FCTC) encourages and expects all students enrolled in programs to attend regularly, to derive maximum benefit from the instructional program, and develop habits of punctuality, self-discipline, and responsibility. Our faculty and staff are committed to prepare our students with the diverse skill set necessary to be successful in the workforce. Effective work habits are paramount to students' success and all our programs include an employability criteria checklist within their grading policy. Please note the mastery of content is the key for successful completion of our non-licensure and licensure programs.

Student Attendance Procedure

Step 1) If a student misses 3 consecutive unexcused days, per grading period, of the CTE program instruction, the instructor will meet with the student to review the student handbook high school attendance policy. The instructor will be proactive and provide problem-solving options for the student to be on time and improve their attendance. The student advisor will notify the student's home high school registrar and/or school counselor of instructor/student meeting.

The student advisor will notify the student's home high school registrar and/or school counselor of instructor/ student meeting and plan of action.

Step 3) If a student misses 10 consecutive unexcused days, per grading period, of the CTE program instruction, the instructor will notify the student advisor. The student advisor will email the student's home high school registrar/ and or guidance counselor and program instructor of program dismissal.

Step 4) If a student misses 15 total unexcused absences within the school year, the student will be reviewed by the review committee. The student advisor will email the student's home high school registrar/ and or guidance counselor and program instructor of program dismissal.

For all high school tests scheduling to include exam week(s), students are required to attend their FCTC dual enrollment course(s) if there is no conflict with their high school exam schedule.

Anytime an instructor or career specialist is concerned about a student's attendance and determines that the student may need additional outreach support from the student advisor, the instructor and/or career specialist will direct the student to the student advisor. The student advisor will meet with the student and provide necessary outreach information to support student attendance success. If the student advisor provides additional attendance and/or outreach support to the student, the student advisor will also notate that within the students FOCUS referral tab (for dual enrollment students) and will contact the student's home high school counselor/ registrar.

Tardiness

OCCUPATIONAL EXPOSURE RISKS

Dental Assistants are front-line health care providers who must balance occupational risks of exposure to infectious diseases, toxic substances, and radiation with providing quality care to all clients/patients.

The First Coast Technical College Dental Assisting Program strictly adheres to the CDC recommended precautions to prevent the spread of infections in healthcare settings: Standard Precautions and Transmission-Based Precautions. Standard Precautions are based on a risk assessment and make use of common-sense practices and personal protective equipment use that protect healthcare providers from infection and prevent the spread of infection from patient to patient. Transmission-Based Precautions are used in addition to Standard Precautions for patients who may be infected or colonized with certain infectious agents for which additional precautions are needed to prevent infection transmission.

FCTC students in externships in health care facilities are at risk for injuries, clinical incidents and potential exposure to infectious diseases such as:

- Hepatitis B (HBV)
- Hepatitis A
- Delta hepatitis
- Hepatitis C
- Tuberculosis
- MRSA
- Measles
- Mumps
- Rubella
- Influenza
- HIV (AIDS)
- COVID-19

If a student suffers an injury or incident, the student should immediately report it to the FCTC instructor, complete an agency “incident report” and an FCTC student accident report. The instructor will submit all forms to the FCTC Career Program Specialist for appropriate submission and follow-up. The student may be responsible for costs of screening and follow-up care.

FCTC does not carry personal health insurance on students. Students are personally responsible for their own accident/health insurance. All students enrolled in the dental assisting program purchase medical liability and accident insurance, which is included in the program fees, but this insurance only protects students while they are participating in official school activities.

Confidentiality and Privacy of Patient Information

As a student who will be completing an externship in a health care setting and office practice, you have a legal and ethical duty to keep patient information confidential. Federal law Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA) forbids healthcare providers from disclosing patients protected health information, except upon written authorization by the patient or as otherwise permitted by law.

Under the HIPAA Security and Privacy Regulations healthcare providers are required to have the capacity to determine who is accessing their patient's protected health information and to protect the privacy of that information. Failure to maintain patient confidentiality, accessing patient information without a need to do so or any other violation of policy, may result in disciplinary action against the student.
